Dear Sarah

Ofsted Inspection

I write to congratulate you, your staff, governors and pupils at Burnopfield Primary School on the very positive outcomes from your recent inspection on 27 November 2018.

The team commented upon the strong practice and marked improvements in specific areas that have secured a good judgement with a recommendation that the school's next inspection will be a section 5. This is a great achievement and a very clear endorsement of the commitment and hard work of everyone connected with Burnopfield Primary.

The strength of leadership, including the contribution of governors in shaping the vision and direction for the school, permeates the inspection letter and it is particularly pleasing to read the positive comments regarding the 'vibrant, interesting and engaging' curriculum, and the 'interesting, inspiring and often exceptional teaching' which has continued to improve over time.

Schools with Ofsted outcomes such as yours do so because they set high standards and create a culture of sustained improvement. Therefore, please accept my sincere thanks for the 'inspirational leadership' provided by you, your deputies and governors who have created a happy and vibrant school in which pupils develop a 'love of learning'. This helps them to overcome any barriers and results in them achieving well and making outstanding progress, whatever their starting points.

My sincere thanks and good wishes to everyone. I am delighted that Ofsted recognises the excellence that underpins your work at Burnopfield Primary. Please share this letter and its sentiments with your pupils, staff and governors and I wish you well in the next section 5 inspection which I am sure will recognise the many achievements highlighted in the recent inspection.

Yours sincerely
